

Jesse J. Holland

African American History Speaker, Author and Educator

Jesse J. Holland is the new voice of the forgotten history of African Americans in the United States.

Insightful, intelligent and inspirational, Jesse J. Holland's personal life experience, formal education and innovative opinions and writings bring a fresh and educational opinion on African American history, entertainment and politics in the United States. Holland tells it like it is in an entertaining, energetic and informing way. Always leaving listeners wanting to know more, Holland brings a spark of life and knowledge to any presentation, panel discussion, workshop, retreat or lecture.

- TV Host with years of on-camera and live audience experience
- Multiple award-winning author and journalist
- MFA in Creative Nonfiction
- Frequent guest on radio, TV, and print
- Appointments as Visiting Distinguished Professor and Distinguished Visiting Scholar

Author of

- The Invisibles: The Untold Story of African American Slaves In The White House
Independent Publishers Association Silver Medal winner
- Black Panther: Who Is The Black Panther?
NAACP Image Award nominee
- Black Men Built The Capitol: Discovering African American History In and Around The White House
- Star Wars: The Force Awakens – Finn's Story

Topics Include:

- Lost African American History
- African American politics
- American Slavery
- African American journalism
- American politics
- African American nonfiction
- History of Black Superheroes
- Black science fiction
- Media Diversity
- Blacks in the White House
- Black History of Washington, D.C.

Past Clients include:

- Southwest Airlines
- U.S. State Department
- Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture
- Thomas Gilcrease Institute of American History and Art
- St. Jude's Children Research Hospital

www.jessejholland.com
jesse@jessejholland.com
202-413-7047

